THE release of this production is made in the belief that as a unit, it will interpret life at M. S. T. C. accurately and sympathetically. Any observed oversight is unintentional and any shortcoming, attributable to the human error involved in a large technical staff.

Passed and approved by the board of publications for your consideration and pleasure.

When the last curtain is drawn, we hope you will say, "I am happy to have been here."

DRAGON Productions, unrolling the curtains on 1938-39, presents through photographic and artistic media the Drama of the College: the Physical Setting, of which we are proud; the Directional Staff, whom we so much admire; the Cast of Players, a talented and cosmopolitan assemblage; the Features of the larger curriculum; and the Selected Short Subjects which make up a production unique as every year is unique.

We Appreciate

A SCHOOL where we are given the freedom of adults; instructors who take a more than professional interest in us, and who mingle freely with us; the scholastic standards which the school maintains.

We appreciate the part played by legislators and citizens of the State in providing the educational system by which we profit.

SCHOOL

BECAUSE of her continued loyalty and service to the College, we dedicate the 1939 Dragon to Maude Hayes, professor of English literature and head of the English department.

Prevue

Seeing it all in one piece
Makes a world of difference . . .
For as the minutes flow, how could we feel
Youth play the major role . . .
Or the great plot's slow unwinding.
We saw the day-by-day . . . frenzied cheering . . .
Steam over Memorial Field . . . burning of midnight oil . . .
Christmas carols 'round Wheeler fireplace . . .
And the misty rustle of ball dresses
At a fraternity dance . . .
And for some,
Mortarboards, and a benediction,
And walking out into the crisp spring air.

The DIRECTORS

Officially—

THE DRAGON speaks a various language; it is the voice of youth—college youth, making articulate and graphic the life of the campus. THE DRAGON catches and mirrors the form and color of the life of faculty and students of Moorhead Teachers College at work and at play. More than this it reveals the forward-looking spirit and purpose of the student body.

The staff has been united in the resolve to create an annual that shall speak a message in truth without being too serious, in pleasing art not lacking humor, and in the honor of the colors—the Crimson and the White.

All this is to be commended. May THE DRAGON of 1939 be a continuing source of pleasure to students, alumni, and friends in the years to come.

As Athletic director and head coach Alex J. "Sliv" Nemzek has his hands full. Since coming to M.S.T.C. in 1923 from the North Dakota A.C., where he was a star athlete, "Sliv" has produced outstanding teams in the Northwest, both in and out of conference play.

Mr. J. R. Schwendeman is the faculty representative on the Northern Teachers College Athletic Board, handling finances for athletic games and investigating the eligibility of the players.

Marco Gotta, alumnus and co captain of the 1937 football team, furnished valuable assistance to coach Nemzek in football last fall.

Versatility is a word applicable to Chester "Chet" Gilpin, an alumnus, for his great help in football, basketball and track. In the fall he is one of Coach Nemzek's assistants in football. During the winter season he takes charge of the Freshmen basketball team and assists "Sliv" with the varsity. When spring rolls around "Chet" is busy taking over his duties as head track coach.

Playing against fast company in the strong Northern Teachers College Conference, the M. S. T. C. Basketball team got off to a slow start due to injuries and sickness.

The high spot of the season was the hair-raising game with Bemidji Teachers here on January 27, in which the Dragons edged out the Beavers by a score of 49 to 48 in two over-time periods.

Glenn Preston, sophomore, ace scorer for the Dragon cagers, topped all other high scorers in the conference with his 123 point total for 10 games.

The rapid development of Weling, Putney, and Kellet from reserves to regular positions and the help of three freshmen, Hotz, Holzer and Pahula, make the prospects look bright for a good team next year.

"Schwank" explains to the varsity.

Tennis

This sport, one of the minor attractions at M. S. T. C., offers variations for the regular physical education classes; appeals to the student who wishes relaxation after the strain of academic work; and gives certain students a channel in which athletic prowess may be developed.

Minor Sports

Offer entertainment and relaxation . . . the exchange of a few friendly blows helps in the manly art of self-defense . . . from the bars one can get a strange view of the world . . . down the track or over a hurdle perhaps to make a record or only to loosen some muscle hibernating since the winter . . . those mighty arms go into action to hurl the ball, discus, or javalin . . . at last the weather is just right for baseball and then that grand old feeling returns.
